Swan Island Dahlias 1960 INTRODUCTIONS

SWAN'S PINK ECHO: "BB"-5"x3½"-Formal Decorative. A beautiful new color sport of the well known Eastern Echo. Perfect formal decorative form, with 5" flowers of glowing clear pink lightly veined and speckled with bright wine. In common with its parent, considerable variation in markings will occur, even on the same bush. Flowers are full and deep, rounding well back toward the stem. The blooms face nicely on excellent stems and are carried well out of the healthy dark green foliage. Sure to be a formidable competitor in the B or BB variegated class at dahlia shows. The flowers have a radiant, almost iridescent color, and stand out bright and clear even from a distance. Guaranteed to please those who like variegated dahlias with their spectacular markings. Do not try to cut this in the heat of the day. Cut early in the morning or late at night and give it the hot water treatment described on page 5. Blooms will easily last four days or more if this is done. Vigorous 5' to 6' bush.

CENTENNIAL JOY: Miniature Incurred Cactus. 4"x2". A real addition to the miniature class both for exhibition and cutting. The outer two-thirds of the petals are a rich vibrant peach which diffuses to a soft yellow at the base. As one looks at the flower from the side, tones of pink immediately show. This no doubt accounts for the liveliness of the bloom so frequently missing in this color class. Exceptionally graceful 4" flowers are held erect and carried proudly above the foliage on one of the very best stems we have ever seen. The centers are well formed and prominently colored deep peach. The petite, perky flowers are perfect for arrangements, and ideal for combining with autumn leaves in clever little floral designs. Our Centennial Joy arrangement still looked fresh after sitting three days under hot lights during our indoor farm show last fall. We enjoyed receiving two ribbons on this new introduction at the 1959 Oregon State Fair. Perhaps best of all is that we have never had a weak plant nor one which showed the slightest indication of disease. Self branching well formed 3' to 4' bush. Be sure to include this in your 1960 garden. This is a seedling of Hestia. $3.00 Net

A Word About New Dahlia Introductions

Hundreds of new dahlias are put on the market annually, but unfortunately most of these have not been thoroughly tested, and many are decidedly inferior to existing kinds. In addition to being "pretty," dahlias should have good stems capable of carrying the flower head without drooping; flowers represented as being fully double (with closed centers) should not throw a big percentage of blooms with open or "popped" centers; they should not be carbon copies of existing varieties; they should reproduce at least fairly well; and most important they should have a hardy vigorous growth and be resistant to disease.

Each season we test a great many different varieties. Several years ago we became concerned at the great proportion of "duds," and consequently started a seedling program of our own in the hope of raising some really fine new varieties. CENTENNIAL JOY is the only variety we felt worthy of keeping out of more than 10,000 planted in the initial year of this program. A number of other excellent new varieties are now on the way and will be introduced in succeeding years.

We have also been fortunate in securing a good number of "color sports" or mutations in the past several years. SWAN'S PINK ECHO is the first of these we are marketing, and we are in the process of building stocks on a number of other new sports at the present time.

Our pledge is that we will introduce no new variety until we have tested it thoroughly, growing and observing it three years or more, and found it to measure up in every respect. You can buy any of the NEW SWAN ISLAND INTRODUCTIONS with complete confidence in their ability to perform satisfactorily in your garden.

"CAY" McEVoy AND "CAY"

CAY: "A" 9"x4". Informal Decorative. We are pleased to introduce this exciting new creation by the well known expert dahlia hobbyist, Mr. J. R. McEvoy of Portland, Oregon. From among the hundreds of seedlings he has grown, "Johnny" selected this variety to name in honor of his charming wife "Cay." The flowers average 9" across and 4" deep, with petals gracefully twisted and curled in an unusual and different form. Color is white deepening to a very light cream at the base, with just the slightest suggestion of lilac brushed on the tips, the lilac coloring being accentuated in cool or rainy weather. Faint pencil markings show on the lower two-thirds of the petals, giving added distinction to the bloom. Perfectly formed high centers are always closed. We have never seen an open center on this variety, this feature being especially important in dahlia shows. For a large dahlia, Cay is very early and profuse. We topped our plants when they were about 18" high, and they produced magnificent 6' bushes with lateral canes three feet or more in length. A rain and terrific windstorm just prior to the Oregon State Fair wrecked our best blooms, so we were unable to show Cay in competition, but it looks to be a keen candidate. We had "Johnny" check each plant individually in late September, and he gave his personal okay as to vigor and freedom from disease. Be sure to grow this fine new dahlia in your garden this year. This is a seedling of Quinn's Tidal Wave. $10.00 Net

Did you know?

- Cactus and decorative blooms must be fully open before cutting. (Young blooms wilt.)
- Use a sharp knife, cutting on a slant and cut long stems (including buds). The blooms will keep longer and you will be pruning your bush, thus assuring better quality blooms later.
- A few drops of Purex in the water will eliminate the odor from the stems.

AUTUMN LIGHT (B SC). 6" flowers are an apricot with salmon pink undertones. Free flowering, good cutflower. 5' bush. Pictured page 5. .75

BALLERINA (B SC). One of the nicest recent introductions we have seen. The color is a delicate shading of bright light pink blending with white and cream at the base of the petals. Each petal tip is split, giving an overall "fluffy" appearance to the flower. The 6" flowers are full and deep and hold up well when cut. The ladies really like this one! Best when disbudded. 5' bush. Pictured page 3..... 1.50

BELLE DAME (A StC). Finely petaled salmon pink of elegant grace and form, with the petals curling back to the stem. 8" flowers are carried well on strong stems which hold the blooms up out of the 5' bush

BERGER'S MASTERPIECE (B IC). The 7" soft salmon pink blooms are very finely petaled and gracefully incurved, appealing to all. Very long stiff stems on 6' bush. When cut fully open and given the hot water treatment, the blooms hold up very well. Pictured page 10.... 1.50

BERTHA SHONE (A IC). Certainly deserving of its many blue ribbon awards. The 10" blooms are a soft lavender pink with a distinct creamy white center. BESTSELLER (B SC). 6" to 7" fiery orange scarlet, usually tipped with gold. Wonderful cutflower and a vigorous 6' bush. Early blooming improvement on the older variety Carnaval. The color is so vibrant that the flowers stand out like a pathway of flame through our fields. Pictured back cover..... 2.50

BLACKBIRD (B IC). Another consistent blue ribbon winner. The 7" to 8" blooms are a very deep black red with an overall appearance of velvet. This good cutflower has cane-like stems and a healthy 5' bush. Stock very limited..... 2.00

BLYHEID. (B SC). A 6" bright orange red on best of stems and an excellent keeper when cut! Disbudded blooms of this are magnificent. One of the perennial favorites at our field and shows. 5' bush. Pictured page 5..... 1.50

CAROUSSEL (B IC). This dahlia made quite a record in the purple class, with many awards to its credit. True incurved form, with an extremely spidery appearance. 7" rich purple flower on a rather low 3' bush. A must for the dahlia show exhibitor! Pictured page 10.... 1.50

CLARION (B StC). The salmon red flower reminds one of the old Aristocrat, but flowers are somewhat larger, averaging 6" to 7", and it also withstands heat better without fading. Free flowering 5' bush. Pictured page 10..... 1.25

COCKTAIL (B StC). Beautiful 6" to 7" buff yellow with split petal tips. One of the earliest to bloom, with a mass of flowers all season. Vigorous 6' bush. A real addition to this color and class..... 1.00

COPPERHEAD (B IC). A beautiful 8" tawny orange which can easily be grown to "A" size with disbudding. We have had to hold Copperhead off the market for several years while building our stock, and only limited quantities are available. Excellent for garden or show. 5' bush. Order early. Pictured page 10..... 1.50

COMMANDANT CATRY (B IC). Outstanding new orchid purple with a white center. Normal size 6" to 7" but disbudded blooms almost reach "A" size and have a great depth and body. Distinctly different and a magnificent new dahlia. 6' bush. Picture page 10..... 2.00

CONSTANT PERMEKE (A IC). 8" blooms are a very dark red. The stems are excellent with loads of flowers on the 6' bush. Good cut-flower. 1.00

EDNA D (A StC). Large 9" to 10" bright red. Free flowering 6' bush. We recommend topping and disbudding as the stems are prone to bend with the weight of the blooms toward the end of the blooming season. Very heavily ordered..... 1.00

GIANT OF BAARN (A IC). 10" to 12" huge flowers have a good form and a bright vermillion red color with salmon hues. This is the kind of a dahlia the florists "rave" about. We took three blue ribbons on the three different entries in various classes at the 1959 Oregon State Fair. Pictured page 4..... 1.00
GRANDEZZA (B StC). This is classed as a straight cactus, but it comes very incurved for us. MRS. LeROY (FRANCES S.) McDUFFEE prepares to make the initial cut in dividing a clump of dahlia tubers. Mrs. McDuffee is Dick McCarter's mother, and together with his father founded the business more than thirty years ago. Still active in the business, one of her specialties is dividing the "hard to cut" varieties. Yes, she still grows dahlias in her yard as a hobby, too!

Use This Chart To Help Select Varieties For Exhibition

For purposes of exhibiting, larger flowering dahlias are divided into two size groups, "A" — 8 inches or more across, and "B" — 4 inches to 8 inches. They are further divided into the five major types and fourteen color classes as shown on the top and side margins of the chart. Thus if one wants an "A" size Semi-Cactus to exhibit, simply choose one of the varieties in any square under this heading. To figure color class entries, merely follow down the left hand side to the color desired and then read across the page. Official classifications of the American Dahlia Society have been used.

TUBERS

FIELD GROWN CLUMPS

Shown above are typical tubers, pot clumps, and field grown clumps from cuttings. Note the larger size of the field grown clumps as compared with the pot clumps. If cut in two, each piece of the field grown clump will produce full size bushes and flowers.

WHAT OUR CUSTOMERS SAY

Enclosed please find pictures and clipping of our local flower show and am very happy to inform you that I took three first and one second prize. Your dahlias are now taking prizes in the new and largest state in the union.

Wrangell, Alaska
R. W. M.

My dahlias bought from you last spring were simply beautiful. This year we're digging up more lawn so we can have another bed of dahlias. I can hardly wait for your new catalog.

San Francisco, Calif.
Mrs. A. E. C.

More than a million visitors enjoyed our dahlia planting in the "Garden of Tomorrow" at the Oregon Centennial Exposition in Portland during the summer of 1959. About 2,000 hills were in bloom from early July until the close of the Exposition in late September. The building in the background with the interesting architecture is the Forest Products Pavilion.

For years some of the foremost dahlia growers in England and the European continent have produced what are known in the trade as "pot clumps." In this method of propagation "cuttings" are made in the greenhouse in late winter and early spring. After rooting, the cuttings are planted in small 3" pots and are allowed to grow through the season. A small clump of tubers is formed by digging time in the fall, and this clump is then sold without being divided. A few of the dahlias grown in the United States are produced by this method, but we have felt that neither American grown nor imported stock has been completely satisfactory for general distribution to the public because of small size, broken "necks," and a high incidence of rotting or shriveling during storage on some varieties. We have also found a lot of misnamed dahlias at times because the pot plantings are frequently not allowed to bloom, and thus no check for possible mixups can be made by the grower.

After moving to Canby nine years ago, we started planting experimental plots of dahlia cuttings. Because of the extremely fine, light, sandy soil (soil maps call it Sifton Sand and only about three square miles exist in the entire State of Oregon), we have been able to bypass the potting and can plant the rooted cuttings directly into the field, thus allowing the clumps to grow to a larger size and producing what we refer to as field grown clumps from cuttings. These plants bloom profusely in our field, thus giving us an opportunity to thoroughly check each variety for being true to name. We have also eliminated the storage difficulties and the problem of broken necks on these clumps by techniques developed in the past years of research.

In the last decade or so it has also been proven that the establishment of "mother blocks" of the very finest plants for propagation can aid materially in improving variety strains. At Swan Island Dahlias we started adapting this "mother block" program to dahlias several years ago and have already achieved dramatic results with many varieties. Now for the first time we have available limited quantities of field grown clumps from cuttings taken from our "mother block" stock on many varieties. In addition to receiving our usual fine quality, you will frequently get the added bonus of being able to divide many of these clumps in half, with each piece producing full size bushes and flowers this year, the same as regular tubers. Where varieties have been propagated by this method, field grown clumps will be shipped in your order at no extra cost. Please do not ask for them on specific varieties. If we have them, they will be sent automatically.

World Famed Giant Decorative Dahlias

Decorative: Flowers have broad petals which are flat or only very slightly rolled.

FD — Formal Decorative: Flat petals with an even, regular placement throughout the flowers.

ID — Informal Decorative: Generally flat petals, sometimes slightly rolled at the tips, but with an irregular arrangement or formation. A — 8" or more across. B — 4" to 8" across.

ANDRIE'S WONDER (A ID). Quite a striking dahlia! The unusual formation and coloring appeal to all dahlia enthusiasts. Our basket displays at our fall shows are fresh and "pert" even after three days under hot lights, which is quite extraordinary for 10" blooms. The petals are a blend of salmon orange and pink with cream at the base. The petals in the center of the bloom are slightly curled at the tips with the outer petals flattening back to the stem. Visitors have questioned its being in the dahlia family because of its distinctiveness. Disbud for maximum size. Free flowering 4' bush. Pictured page 17..... $1.50

ARC de TRIOMPH (B FD). Perfectly formed 7" rich gold cutflower. Heavy blooming 5' bush. Pictured page 13..... 1.00

ARTHUR GODFREY (A FD). One of the largest American introductions. The 10" to 12" immense flowers have a beautiful orient red color with orange shadings. Can be grown to 14" with disbudding. Stems are strong and carry the flowers well out of the foliage. 4' bush..... 1.00

AUTUMN BLAZE (A ID). Well named, as its flame red color is quite sensational. Huge 12" blooms on long stems (can be grown to 14" or more disbudded). Free flowering 5' bush. We consider this the best yet in the informal flame class. Winner of three blue ribbons at each of the 1958 and 1959 Oregon State Fairs (both years it won the LARGEST DAHLIA award). Pictured page 17..... 1.00

BALLEGÓ'S GLORY (B to A FD). Loads of 7" to 9" blooms of a rich mahogany and gold color. Excellent cutflower. 5' bush..... 1.00

CROYDON MASTERPIECE (A ID). Widely acclaimed in America and Europe, as well as in its native Australia because of its wonderful vigorous growth and the tremendous size of its flowers. It has been an outstanding show winner every year and we recommend it without hesitation. 12" flowers can be grown to 15" with disbudding. Sturdy 5' bush. Pictured page 12..... 1.50

JAPANESE BISHOP

Still the most popular dahlia of any type year after year! The rich 3" dark red flowers contrast strikingly with very dark, almost black foliage, making each bush a beautiful picture plant. Widely used as a "hedge" effect, or as a foreground for taller growing varieties, as Japanese Bishop rarely grows over 3 feet in height. A real gem to add that touch of distinction to your garden. Cut the flowers when the first row of pollen is just beginning to show color and they will last a week in those gay bouquets. Cut at least an 8" stem so you are sure to get some buds and foliage to make your arrangements really outstanding.

Simple, easy-to-follow directions carry you through all stages of successful dahlia growing for the home gardener. Planting, watering, cultivating, fertilizing, spraying, digging, and storing are all covered in a step by step program to give you maximum results.

Handling of cut flowers and preparation of blooms for the show table are also included, knowledge gained through 34 years of experience in growing millions of dahlias.

A separate section tells and shows with pictures how to divide your dahlia clumps. Growing dahlias from cuttings is described and made easy, even if you have never tried this fascinating method of propagation before . . . all in one handy little pocket size book. Order your dahlias now and get your free copy. Those not ordering are requested to send 50c for each copy desired.

DWARF SINGLE DAHLIAS FOR BEAUTIFUL LANDSCAPES

Unexcelled for beds, borders, rockeries, window boxes, or planters. Plant 1 foot apart, in sunlight (avoid trees), have good drainage, fertilize as recommended in our growing instructions sent free with every order, water well during blooming AND they will produce hundreds of blossoms all season if you keep the old flowers cut off. Use them for bouquets, cut when first row of pollen begins to show, use hot water treatment (page 5) and see how well they last! BISHOP OF LLANDAFF—Outstanding Dark Foliage Peony Dahlia

BISHOP OF LLANDAFF (Miniature Peony). Here is an outstanding companion for our famous Japanese Bishop. The foliage is a similar dark bronzy green color (almost black), but the leaves have a very distinct notching, giving a lacy effect. The flowers are a little larger and a darker more intense shade of red, with two rows of petals around the open centers. We have an exceptionally fine strain of this variety, and feel sure it will please all who grow it. 3 foot bushes.

"I don't have any bugs. Why should I spray?"

The best time of all to dust is when you don't have a serious infestation of insect pests. Prevention is still far and away the best cure. Also it is quite possible to have an infestation of insects and not be aware of it. Many pests are very tiny and one must look closely to see them. This is especially true of thrip and red spider. Dust or spray your bushes regularly and be sure.

To Wash or Not to Wash?

One of the questions concerning storage most frequently asked us is, "Should I wash my dahlia clumps in the fall after I dig them?" There is no flat "yes" or "no" answer to this. If you have had difficulty with your tubers drying out in storage, then it probably will be better to leave the dirt on, as the soil is an added protective coating which shields your tubers from the air. On the other hand, if your storage is cool and moist, washing is usually a good idea, particularly if you have a heavy clay soil. We have seen many clumps rot when put away with a large ball of wet muddy clay around them. Consider your storage facilities and then make your decision as to washing. If you are having good luck with your present method — don't change.

Divide in Fall at Digging Time or Wait Until Spring?

This is another question frequently asked, and one which we can only answer by asking you a question. "How much do you know about dividing dahlia clumps?" The "eyes" or sprouts for next season are plainly visible at digging time . . . if you know what you are looking for. They usually appear as little white "bumps" around the base of the stalk, although they sometimes may be colored. If you can readily see the eyes, it is perhaps easier for you to divide as you dig as the tubers are still soft and splitting open the stalk also frequently stops rot from setting in. However, if you don't know for sure what a dormant eye looks like, wait until Spring when you can eye them out and the sprouts are prominent.

FLASH!! Report from the Mid-West Trial Gardens

CENTENNIAL JOY scored 85.6 (this is very high) at the American Dahlia Society trial gardens at Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan. The report states, "Bloom average 4"-4½" by 2½" deep on stiff, straight, and wiry stems, with flowers held half facing to erect. Late blooming, but abundant flowering on healthy vigorous plants."

More than ever you should include this outstanding new dahlia in your garden. Don't forget the low, low price is only $3.00 (far less than you would expect to pay for a highly rated new variety).

Note: This report was not received until after our copy had been submitted to the printers, and therefore we could not include it on page 2 with the descriptive material on Centennial Joy.

COLLARETTE DAHLIAS

Collarettes are daisy-like flowers, with only one row of petals (most varieties have 8 petals, but a few have more), around the open center, but with the addition of one or more rows of petaloids (usually of a different color) forming a collar around the open center. Most of them make excellent cutflowers and should be cut when the outer row of pollen is just beginning to open. Each plant will have up to several hundred blooms per season.

A LOOK INTO THE OFFICE AT SWAN ISLAND DAHLIAS

SHIRLEY McCARTER takes time out from typing the copy for this catalog to put on a big smile for the camera. Shirley supervises all the office work and assumes the major responsibility for staging shows such as we put on here at our farm each fall, as well as having a hand in many other phases of the business.

MRS. EARL (Sabina) OLIVER has charge of our customer files, posting all information on orders, changes of address, etc., to the cards. Her message to you is, "PLEASE PRINT OR WRITE PLAINLY." Most troubles on deliveries of orders can be traced to poor or illegible handwriting.

In order to help avoid mistakes and speed delivery, we ask that all members of the same household please order under one name.

Also please use the same name each time you order. For example, if you order as Mrs. John Jones in 1959, don't order as Betty Jones in 1960. This confuses our records and may delay your order.

CHRYSANTHEMUM CULTURE

Select an open sunny location where the plants will not be in shade more than a few hours a day. Avoid areas under trees or on the north side of buildings. Prepare the soil well, adding peat moss or barnyard manure if your ground is a heavy clay type or if it lacks in humus. In common with most plants, mums don't like "wet feet."

Plant after the ground begins to warm up in the spring, working in about a handful of bonemeal around each plant. Divide and re-plant your old clumps from the previous year. Individual shoots or young rooted cuttings will do much better than large old clumps. Plant deep enough so the roots will be down where they can get the moisture in the soil when the hot weather comes along.

Pinching is the practice of taking off the tip end (a half inch or so) of the new growth on your plants. This encourages lateral growth, with these laterals also being pinched after they are 8" to 12" high. Pinching will give you lower, broader plants with far more flowers at blooming time. If your plants are too tall and thin, even more severe pinching or topping is advised, just as it would be for dahlias. It is not advisable to pinch most mums after the latter part of July, as the buds may be beginning to form by this time.

Water thoroughly every week to ten days, soaking the ground to a depth of 6" to 8". Surface irrigation is preferable to overhead sprinkling. Your plants will stand up better and you'll have less trouble with mildew or other fungus diseases. Remember that if your plant lacks water it can't feed properly, as the fertilizer is delivered to the plant in soluble form through the roots.

If rotted manures are not available, fertilize with any well balanced commercial mix at the rate of a small handful to a plant two or three times during the growing season. Wait till your plants are well established before applying high concentrate mixes, and water in well.

Here at Swan Island we use a combination of DDT, Malathion, and Captan for both dahlias and mums with excellent results on both. These three materials are compatible with one another, and can be applied with safety both to the plants and the person doing the job. Use at the rate indicated on the package.

After frost, cut back the tops and mulch to a depth of several inches with any light porous material which will not heat in a pile when wet. Excelsior, light hay, cornstalks, and evergreen boughs have been used successfully.

CHOICE CHRYSANTHEMUMS

Chrysanthemum plants will be shipped from April 25th through June 6th. Plants will not be ready any sooner, so please do not ask for earlier shipment. We ship large, well rooted plants.

CUSHION MUMS

These attractive gay little mounds of flowers are among the easiest of all mums to grow and have no superior in the garden world for borders or large rock gardens. Marvelous for mass effects, they are also extensively grown as potted plants. Their early blooming habits delight the gardener in the North where fall storms frequently interfere with proper blooming of later blooming types. They can very successfully be left in one spot for several years with larger and more spectacular displays of glorious color as the plants become larger. Try some of these compact little beauties this year and use dahlias of a complementary color for background. 12" to 18" high.

6 Large Well Rooted Plants $2.00 12 for $3.75

SPIDER MUMS

Now you can enjoy the magnificent beauty of graceful spider mums in your own garden! The large flowers have sharp quilled petals like a cactus dahlia, but with an open tip which curls up, making a hook on the end of the petal. With disbudding you can have flowers 6" or more across — just like those costing several dollars a dozen in flower shops. Blooming period from middle of October on.

WHITE YELLOW PINK BUFF GREEN BURGUNDY

6 Fine Large Plants $2.50 12 for $4.50

SPOON MUMS

These delightful mums remind one somewhat of a cactus dahlia except that the ends of the tubular petals flatten out in a tiny spoon. They are uniquely artistic and especially delightful for flower arrangements. In some varieties the spoon is the same color as the tube and in others there will be a variation in shade. Bushes average 3' to 4' in height.

RED — YELLOW — PUMPKIN — WHITE — BRONZE — PINK — ROSE
GARNET — MAGENTA — RUBY — PINK W/CREAM — CREAM

6 for $2.50 12 for $4.50

EARLY ENGLISH MUMS

English mums have been gaining more in popularity for the last several years than any other type because of their early blooming habits and large flowers. With disbudding and proper feeding flowers 5" to 6" across can readily be had. Without disbudding flowers will still be substantially larger than those of other standard types. The plants in this well balanced selection are all grown from outdoor raised stock and will delight the connoisseur as well as the beginner.

DAHLIAS ARE FUN FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

MR. D. E. ROUFS AND CHILDREN
three dahlia growers and a future candidate

There are no age limits for dahlia growers! From age 9 (or even younger) to 90 (and sometimes older) growing dahlias is a healthy, rewarding hobby full of new pleasure as each gorgeous flower comes into bloom. It seems to us that no other pastime has the all around satisfaction of gardening, and raising dahlias is a specially delightful kind of gardening.

Pictured at left is Mr. D. E. Roufs and the three little "Roufs," Rebecca Joy, Daniel Walter, and Elizabeth Gay (Mrs. Roufs must have taken the picture), posing by part of their planting of 1,000 hills of dahlias at their home at 3310 N. 6th St., Minneapolis, Minn. Altogether the Roufs have about 300 varieties, from tiny pompons to the giants like the 14" bloom of Arthur Godfrey shown in the picture. Hundreds of friends and neighbors enjoy the beautiful dahlia garden each year when they hold an "open yard." Rebecca (age 7) won 2nd prize in her entry division at the 1959 Minnesota State Fair, and Elizabeth will start exhibiting in 1960. There'll be no juvenile delinquents in this family!

Dividing dahlia clumps is a highly skilled job which takes several years to master. Women at the far end send divided tubers down on the endless belt to the women at the near end, who trim off the excess roots. Tubers are then counted into paper lined crates and stored in a 35 to 40 degree warehouse until they are reselected for shipping.

HERE'S WHAT ONE SATISFIED CUSTOMER SAYS:

Dear Folks,

I am writing you at this time in connection with some dahlias I received from you. It was the first time I ordered from you folks and believe me I am very well satisfied with what you sent me. Thought I'd wait until they were in bloom first before writing. They were nice healthy roots and turned out to be just beautiful.

Also I wish to thank you for the free ones you sent along. Just figured you'd like to know that I am well pleased and hope to be able to do business with you next spring.

Your truly,
R. G.

A regular dusting and spraying program at Swan Island Dahlia's Canby farm assures disease free stock. This begins in the early summer when the shoots start coming through the ground and last throughout the season.

Meet Mrs. Henry (Vera) Youngren, who makes the final selection of all tubers sent to you immediately prior to packing and mailing your order. Vera also serves as forelady in our cutting room pictured at right above, and is a vital part of the Swan Island Dahlia team serving you.

An automatic washer has been designed here at Swan Island Dahlias to wash the clumps in the trays and eliminate handling and consequent breakage. After washing, the trays are hauled into our modern, specially designed frost proof basement warehouse for storage until they are divided. Jim Howard is unloading the truck.

OUR VALUABLE AND INTERESTING NEW BOOKLET ON GROWING DAHLIAS WILL BE INCLUDED FREE OF CHARGE WITH ALL ORDERS THIS YEAR. To all others the booklet is available at a nominal charge of 50c

WE HOPE YOU ENJOY THIS CATALOG...

DEAR FRIENDS:

Thanks to your continued loyal patronage, our business continues to grow, making possible the addition of 8 more pages in this catalog. We hope you have hours of enjoyment browsing through the book, and welcome any comments or suggestions you may have as to how we can improve it in the future.

Once again this past fall we won the SWEEPSTAKES AWARD at the Oregon State Fair, with 22 Blues, 9 Reds, and 1 White ribbon on 34 entries. This award has been won each year we have entered since the establishment of formal classes of commercial competition in accordance with the American Dahlia Society rules and standards, judging being done only by accredited dahlia judges. We deliberately show many of the older varieties at the fair, proving our contention that one should not discard "old timers" just because they have been around for a number of years. For example, Autumn Blaze won three blue ribbon awards again this year, for LARGEST AND MOST PERFECT DAHLIA, Best 3 bloom dark blend entry, and Best 12 bloom container entry. Other award winners among the older varieties were Frances S (straight cactus), Rivoli (yellow), Pink Bedder (single), Ami Louis Blin (dark red), and Arthur Godfrey (flame). Also receiving ribbons were Silver Wedding (incurved cactus), Andrie's Wonder (informal decorative), Kidd's Climax (light blend), Centennial Joy (miniature), and Golden Autumn (autumn). Ivory Giant scored again in white, with Nagel's Solidite winning for the best pink. A combination basket of 24 blooms of these two varieties was easily the most striking display in the show and was unanimously selected by the judges for a blue ribbon. Night Editor and Rodeo repeated their first place awards from last year, with Rodeo also winning a blue ribbon for the best basket of 24 blooms of one variety entry — it really created a sensation!

The new dahlia Nita won both in the variegated class and the Newest and Most Perfect section. Good candidates such as the above for entries in dahlia shows are listed in the chart on page 11. Referring to this chart will help you in selection of varieties when ordering, and will be invaluable in determining entries in the various classes.

To our local customers we wish to express our regret at being unable to stage our annual dahlia show in the auditorium at the Portland Meier and Frank store this past fall. The maintenance of our dahlia planting in the Garden of Tomorrow at the Centennial in Portland did not allow enough time for putting on the show.

We also wish to thank the many thousands of visitors who came to our farm to attend our annual indoor show. Your valued orders made the '59 show our most successful to date. Our customers will all receive a card announcing the date for the 1960 show this summer.

Cordially yours,

Dick and Shirley McCarter

SWAN ISLAND DAHLIAS

WHAT ABOUT DISEASE IN DAHLIAS?

In common with nearly all other members of the plant world, dahlias are susceptible to certain virus diseases and other ailments. These are most frequently spread by sucking and chewing insects such as aphids, leaf hoppers, and red spider mites. Unless the pests are controlled in large commercial plantings, a rapid spread of disease is inevitable.

Here at Swan Island Dahlias our dusting and spraying program begins as soon as the first new shoots come through the ground and continues until frost kills the plants in the fall.

A constant and thorough rogueing of diseased, weak, or inferior plants is also a must in commercial dahlia growing to assure the retail customer receiving only the finest and healthiest tubers or plants. Here at our Swan Island Dahlia farm we employ two people trained as experts in the detection of dahlia diseases. This team checks our fields daily throughout the growing season. Any plant not measuring up to the famous Swan Island Dahlia quality is dug out, removed from the fields and destroyed. Even with our huge plantings of several hundred thousand hills, each bush is individually and thoroughly inspected from three to five times before digging. Thus when you order from Swan Island Dahlias you are certain to get the finest quality stock capable of being produced. Grow the best! Grow Swan Island Dahlias!!!

Dick McCarter and Mrs. Adrian (Lee) Wright engrossed in giving their final "approval" of the plants of the variety Pink Sutherland before the digging crew moves in. Notice the healthy, vigorous growth.

Dick has spent his lifetime in commercial dahlia growing, acquiring through these years of experience the invaluable knowledge necessary for the production of top quality tubers.

ANOTHER SWAN ISLAND DAHLIA "FIRST"

As part of our program of producing even better quality dahlias for our customers, we have adopted a concept of "hygienic handling" of the clumps of tubers after digging in the fall. The trays of clumps are washed and treated with a fungicide before going into storage. As the clumps are divided, all cut surfaces are treated with a fungicide, and all knives and tools used in dividing are disinfected. Net result to you . . . an even better guarantee of top quality dahlias when ordered from Swan Island Dahlias.
